

Probate and Trust Administration

At McMillan Metro we have handled hundreds of probate estates and trust administrations. We can serve as counsel to the Personal Representative and provide guidance as needed throughout the probate process.

We also serve as counsel for the Trustee in Trust Administrations. Probate estate administration and Trust administration can be complicated and bewildering. There are notice requirements, tax requirements and various filings that are due at specific times during the process of handling either an estate or a Trust. Our team, which includes experienced probate paralegals, can ensure that you are meeting your deadlines, completing all tax returns, and tying up all loose ends so that when the process is completed, you can rest assured that everything has been handled properly.
